

MADRAZO PAINTING VIGNAUD.

Portrait of American Diplomat for the Spanish Society in New York.

Paris—Raymundo Do Madrazo, the Spanish painter, is executing a portrait of Henry Vignaud, the former secretary of the American embassy here, who is an authority on the life of Christopher Columbus and the president of the American Society of this city.

The portrait, which is intended for the Spanish Society of New York, will be exhibited at the next salon.

Mr. Vignaud is a native of New Orleans, and his relatives still reside there.
